

DRAFT PROGRAMME

Panels set the broad agenda and structure the program around four main thematic areas:

- (1) Radical changes in the economy and the world of work;
- (2) European integration and democracy;
- (3) Global challenges, peace and war, fair economic cooperation;
- (4) Public services and the public sphere.

Workshops will examine specific issues raised by the panels in greater depth.

Assemblies will provide dedicated spaces for exchange among feminists, trade unionists and youth organizations.

ParlaCon will be a specific space bringing together Members of the European Parliament, national parliamentarians and parliamentary groups for structured cooperation and the exchange of good practices.

The Plenary Roundtable will identify concrete tasks and possible strategies for joint cooperation across Europe. It will connect everyday struggles for alternatives, citizen-driven policies and solidarity with the shared effort to counter the rise of the far right.
